

LAMPIRAN II : KEPUTUSAN DEKAN FKIK
 NOMOR : 1920/Un.03/FKIK/10/2025
 TANGGAL : 15 OKTOBER 2025
 TENTANG :

VISION, MISSION AND GOALS
 FACULTY OF MEDICINE AND HEALTH SCIENCES
 MAULANA MALIK IBRAHIM STATE ISLAMIC UNIVERSITY OF MALANG
 2025 - 2029

A. VISI

| Faculty of Medicine and Health Sciences                                                                                                                                                   | Bachelor of Medicine Study Program                                                                                                                                       | Medical Profession Study Program                                                                                                                                       | Master of Biomedical Sciences Study Program                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Bachelor of Pharmacy Study Program                                                                                                                                                                                           | Pharmacist Profession Study Program                                                                                                                                                                                               | Master of Pharmacy Study Program                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| To become an excellent internationally reputable Faculty of Medicine and Health Sciences through the integration of science and Islam to create a prosperous society ( maslahat ). | To become an excellent internationally reputable Bachelor of Medicine Study Program in developing medicine and Hajj health through the integration of science and Islam. | To become an excellent internationally reputable Medical Profession Study Program in developing medicine and Hajj health through the integration of science and Islam. | To become an excellent and internationally reputable study program through the integrative development of biomedical sciences focusing on aging and degenerative processes, integrating science and Islam to support the improvement of public health in general and Hajj health in particular. | To develop pharmaceutical sciences and services integrating science and Islam with excellence in Hajj health and halal products, to establish an excellent and internationally reputable Bachelor of Pharmacy Study Program. | To develop pharmaceutical sciences and services integrating science and Islam with excellence in Hajj health and halal products, and to establish an excellent and internationally reputable Pharmacist Profession Study Program. | To become an excellent and internationally reputable master's study program in the development of science and Islam through excellence in halal pharmacy and Hajj pharmaceutical services, to produce ulul albab educators, researchers, and practitioners in pharmacy. |

B. MISSION

| Faculty of Medicine and Health Sciences                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | Bachelor of Medicine Study Program                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Medical Profession Study Program                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Master of Biomedical Sciences Study Program                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Bachelor of Pharmacy Study Program                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Pharmacist Profession Study Program                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Master of Pharmacy Study Program                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1. To organize high-quality, integrative, and adaptive Islamic higher education to produce ulul albab health professionals with excellence in Hajj health and halal products; 2. To conduct integrative research in medicine and health with excellence in Hajj health and halal products; 3. To implement integrative community service in medicine and health with excellence in Hajj health and halal products; 4. To implement the education, research, and community service based on convergence; 5. To organize good faculty governance; 6. To implement a smart and green Islamic | 1. To provide high-quality, integrative, and adaptive education to produce ulul albab medical graduates who integrate Islam and science; 2. To develop medical sciences of excellence and international reputation with a focus on Hajj health; 3. To advance medical education innovation, converged with research and community service outcomes, and adaptive technological progress. | 1. To provide high-quality, integrative, and adaptive education to produce ulul albab physicians who integrate Islam and science; 2. To develop clinical medicine of excellence and international reputation with a focus on Hajj health; 3. To create innovative medical profession education that is adaptive to technological advancements through convergence with research and community service. | 1. To organize high-quality, integrative, and adaptive Islamic higher education to produce ulul albab graduates of the Master of Biomedical Sciences with an eco-theological paradigm and excellence in aging and degenerative processes related to Hajj health; 2. To conduct internationally reputable biomedical research focusing on aging and degenerative processes in the context of Hajj health; 3. To develop biomedical education innovations converged with research and community service outcomes and adapted technological advancement. | 1. To deliver high-quality, integrative, and adaptive education to produce ulul albab pharmacists who integrate Islam and science; 2. To advance pharmaceutical sciences of excellence and international reputation with strengths in Hajj health and halal products; 3. To develop innovative pharmacist profession education converged with research and community service, and adaptive to technological advancement. | 1. To deliver high-quality, integrative, and adaptive education to produce ulul albab pharmacists who integrate Islam and science; 2. To advance pharmaceutical sciences of excellence and international reputation with strengths in Hajj health and halal products; 3. To develop innovative pharmacist profession education converged with research and community service, and adaptive to technological advancement. | 1. To organize high-quality, integrative, and adaptive Islamic higher education to produce ulul albab educators, researchers, and practitioners with an eco-theological paradigm and international competitiveness in halal pharmacy and Hajj pharmaceutical services; 2. To conduct integrative, innovative, and internationally reputable research in pharmacy with excellence in halal pharmacy, Hajj pharmaceutical services, and natural product-based therapies, contributing to scientific advancement and public health |

| Faculty of Medicine and Health Sciences                 | Bachelor of Medicine Study Program | Medical Profession Study Program | Master of Biomedical Sciences Study Program | Bachelor of Pharmacy Study Program | Pharmacist Profession Study Program | Master of Pharmacy Study Program                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
|---------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------|----------------------------------|---------------------------------------------|------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 7. To enhance international recognition and reputation. |                                    |                                  |                                             |                                    |                                     | improvement; 3. To implement and integrative and applicable community service in halal pharmacy and Hajj pharmaceutical services based on research results and technological convergence to support sustainable community welfare; 4. To carry out education, research, and community service based on convergence and good governance through academic system digitalization, national-international collaboration, and strengthening global recognition of the study program. |

C. GOALS

| Faculty of Medicine and Health Sciences                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Bachelor of Medicine Study Program                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Medical Profession Study Program                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Master of Biomedical Sciences Study Program                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | Bachelor of Pharmacy Study Program                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | Pharmacist Profession Study Program                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Master of Pharmacy Study Program                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1. To create ulul albab health professionals with excellence in Hajj health and halal products; 2. To produce innovative works and products from integrative research in the fields of medicine and health, with a focus on Hajj health and halal products; 3. To establish integrative and sustainable community service programs and activities in the fields of medicine and health, emphasizing Hajj health and halal product excellence; 4. To generate the quality of higher education through the implementation of convergent tridharma (teaching, research, and community service); 5. To establish good, transparent, and accountable faculty governance, oriented toward continuous quality improvement; | 1. To produce Ulul Albab medical graduates who possess academic competence, professional skills, and Islamic ethics through the provision of high-quality, integrative, and adaptive education based on Islamic and scientific values. 2. To establish academic expertise and centers of excellence that serve as national and international references in the field of medicine, with a distinctive focus on Hajj health. 3. To create an innovative, convergent, technology-responsive medical education system that integrates and research | 1. To produce Ulul Albab medical doctors who possess academic competence, professional expertise, and Islamic ethics through high-quality, integrative, and adaptive education based on Islamic and scientific values. 2. To establish academic expertise and centers of excellence that serve as national and international references in the field of clinical medicine, with a distinctive focus on Hajj health. 3. To create an innovative, convergent, technology-responsive medical education system | 1. To produce Ulul Albab graduates in Biomedical Science who possess academic competence, professional expertise, and integrity, and Islamic ethics through high-quality, integrative, and adaptive education rooted in Islamic and scientific values. 2. To develop academic expertise and centers of excellence that become national and international references in the field of biomedical sciences related to aging and degenerative processes, with a distinctive strength in Hajj health. 3. To create an innovative, convergent, and responsive medical education system that integrates | 1. To produce Ulul Albab bachelor of pharmacy who possess academic competence, professional expertise, and Islamic ethics through high-quality, integrative, and adaptive education based on Islamic and scientific values. 2. To establish academic expertise and centers of excellence that serve as national and international references in the field of pharmacy, with a distinctive focus on Hajj health and halal products; 3. To create an innovative, convergent, technology-responsive medical education system that integrates | 1. To produce Ulul Albab Pharmacists who possess academic competence, professional expertise, and Islamic ethics through high-quality, integrative, and adaptive education based on Islamic and scientific values; 2. To establish academic expertise and centers of excellence that serve as national and international references in the field of pharmacy, Hajj pharmacy, and natural product-based therapies, contributing to the advancement of science and the improvement of public health. 3. To produce community service programs that are research-based and supported by convergent technology in the fields of halal pharmacy and Hajj pharmacy, in order to | 1. To produce Master of Pharmacy graduates with the Ulul Albab character, who are endowed with integrity, adaptability to scientific and technological advances, and competence as educators, researchers, and pharmaceutical practitioners with excellence in halal pharmacy and Hajj pharmacy. 2. To generate integrative, innovative, and internationally reputable research in the fields of halal pharmacy, Hajj pharmacy, and natural product-based therapies, contributing to the advancement of science and the improvement of public health. 3. To produce community service programs that are research-based and supported by convergent technology in the fields of halal pharmacy and Hajj pharmacy, in order to |

| Faculty of Medicine and Health Sciences                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Bachelor of Medicine Study Program                                                    | Medical Profession Study Program                                                                                   | Master of Biomedical Sciences Study Program                                                                                                                                                   | Bachelor of Pharmacy Study Program                                                                                         | Pharmacist Profession Study Program                                                                 | Master of Pharmacy Study Program                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 6. To create an intelligent, green, and Islamic campus environment through the application of energy efficiency principles, environmental friendliness, and Islamic values in all academic activities; 7. To achieve the international recognition, networking, and reputation of the faculty through tridharma collaborations, publications, faculty expertise, achievements of faculty and students, and international accreditation. | community service outcomes to enhance the quality and relevance of medical education. | that integrates research and community service outcomes to enhance the quality and relevance of medical education. | technology-responsive biomedical education system that integrates research and community service outcomes to improve the quality and relevance of the Master's program in Biomedical Science. | education system that integrates research and community service outcomes to enhance the quality and relevance of pharmacy. | research and community service outcomes to enhance the quality and relevance of pharmacy education. | promote community welfare and sustainable health development.4. To establish transparent, accountable, and digitally based governance in the implementation of the tridharma of higher education (education, research, and community service), while strengthening national and international collaborations to enhance the global recognition and competitiveness of the study program. |

Dekan,

Yuyun Yueniwati P.W

*Dokumen ini telah ditandatangani secara elektronik menggunakan aplikasi FKIK E-SIGN yang diterbitkan FKIK UIN Maulana Malik Ibrahim Malang

*Untuk pembuktian keaslian dan keutuhan dokumen ini bisa scan Qr Code di atas